WRITING 1

What are you excited about and looking forward to?

Write about buying or shopping.

This branch of the library is closing down for six months. What does that mean for you? For others?

WRITING 2

Your worldview is how you see and understand the world. It is shaped by your interests, history, education, family, demographics, hurts, disappointments, and a million other data points. Write about worldview. Has yours ever changed dramatically? Are you aware of it?

Charlie Kirk.

Think of someone with beliefs or values that are sharply different from yours. Write them a letter of sincere gratitude.

WRITING 3

Gratitude. What are you thankful for today?

Write a versus piece. Such as “walking versus running” or “sweet versus salty” or “morning versus evening” or anything of your choosing.

Write about distance.
